

Use form 1391 if you are seeking confirmation of the Australian citizenship status of a deceased person who is your parent or grandparent, and the information is required to:

- support an application for a passport of another country, or
- support an application for a foreign pension, or
- settle a deceased estate.

Do not use form 1391 if you are seeking information for:

- the purpose of completing a citizenship application, or
- an Australian passport application, or
- genealogy or family research purposes.

If you are seeking evidence of Australian citizenship for the purpose of an Australian passport application, you will need to use form 119 Application for evidence of Australian citizenship.

If you are seeking citizenship information that is more than 30 years old and it is for genealogy or family research purposes, contact the National Archives of Australia www.naa.gov.au

Important information about privacy

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988. Important information about the collection, use and disclosure (to other agencies and third parties, including overseas entities) of your personal information, including sensitive information, is contained in form 1442i Privacy notice. Form 1442i is available from the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/ or offices of the department. You should ensure that you read and understand form 1442i before completing this form.

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may need to convey sensitive information about your application to you. Electronic communication, unless adequately encrypted, is not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with. The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

Translations and certified copies of documents

If your documents are not in English, you will need to provide official translations. In Australia, you must use translators accredited by the National Accreditation Authority of Translators and Interpreters. For more information, see www.naati.com.au

Certified copies of original documents must be attached to your application. These copies must be certified by a person with the appropriate authority. See Certifying documents – List of professions for people who may certify documents.

If you are outside Australia when applying, contact the Australian diplomatic mission in the country that issued the documents for advice on acceptable translators, and who can certify your original documents.
